

Molly Adams

Molly Adams is the daughter of Tim and Judy Adams of Ault, Colorado. She is a sophomore at Northeastern Junior College currently studying animal science and working on an associate degree in Ag Business. She will then be attending West Texas A & M University in Canyon, Texas where she will continue pursuing her degree. She grew up on a small family operated cattle ranch where they owned everything from dogs to donkeys, which is why she has chosen to pursue a degree in Animal Science and Ag Business. Her goal for graduation is to be a nutrition consultant for livestock.

She was a 10 year member of Galeton 4-H Club. Her projects included cake decorating scrapbooking market goats and market swine. In showing goat and pigs through 4-H she has learned how to be successful, although showing pigs was not an experience that she enjoyed. Molly thinks it was mainly because she was unaware of the proper way to keep them cool. She would run a mister in to their pen that eventually cooled them down but then that created a giant mud hole that they played in. They would then rub against her legs covering her in the mud, making her late for school. This was a time she had to remember to be patient and keep a positive attitude. A little patience and a positive attitude can help one get through just about any situation.

Molly's experiences through 4-H have shown her that she can get through any task that is handed to her by remembering to be responsible and to maintain a positive attitude in stressful situations.

Molly Adams is the recipient of the Dorothy Martin Zabka Memorial Scholarship.
